

Debut at the Sanctuary Cove Boat Show

Lazzara 75 Saloon

The Lazzara brand began with extensive market research into the needs and desires of yacht buyers, as well as the voids that existed in the yachting industry in 1990. The results of these studies were incorporated into every facet of Lazzara Yachts from Product Development to Customer Support. By 1992 the company's first yacht, the Lazzara 76 was launched to overwhelming response. It was a winning combination of a production and custom yacht, allowing the owner to personalise his yacht to reflect his own tastes. With innovation, spirit and driven by solid engineering, Lazzara Yachts continued to stun the industry and in 2006 the revolutionary LSX product line was launched. The LSX 75 saw Lazzara enter the sport yacht category with luxury, performance and style that is second to none.

Lazzara 75 expressing its performance ability

This custom package is filled to the brim with luxury, space, technology and speed; it is an entertaining masterpiece.

GRANT TORRENS INTERNATIONAL MARINE located on the The Sovereign Islands QLD was proud to acquire the Australian agency for Lazzara Yachts in 2008. The first Lazzara to grace the Australian shores was the LSX 75; its arrival has sparked a flurry of interest in discerning yacht buyers. This custom package is filled to the brim with luxury, space, technology and speed; it is an entertaining masterpiece. With exotic woods, exquisite leather and plush carpets, it is a certainty that it will earn respect and be praised within the Australian market.

Whilst onboard during the day, the natural light fills all the interior spaces, from the very large galley to the four staterooms and most prominently the saloon where the electric sunroof placed directly above the helm station brings the sunrays inside. When the sunsets, the lighting display in the water brings to life the surroundings, as the underwater lights illuminate. This is only the beginning - when it comes to cutting edge technology on board, Nobel Tec Navigation with LCD flat screens, ISIS 500 vessel management system, LCD touch panel AC & DC controls, night vision thermal imaging camera system and ipod integration >> throughout allow for smooth manoeuvring and luxurious comfort.

Entering this exquisitely detailed yacht, with large all-around windows and a full 6'8" of headroom is a new and fresh experience. Woodwork throughout the yacht is of finely-crafted Okoume (a dark African hardwood with a beautiful grain pattern) and sumptuous carpet to match in cream. This LSX 75 has a four-stateroom accommodation plan. A guest suite is forward; this stateroom, finished with the same attention to detail as the rest of the yacht's interior, offers guests full headroom, along with a large double bed, a hanging closet and private head with separate stall shower. A pair of guest staterooms is off the central passageway just aft of the galley area. Each has a double and twin bed, hanging closet and private head with a large separate shower. They also have a large hull side window to brighten up the cabin, which really enhances the welcoming appeal of these staterooms.

The master stateroom is aft on the lower deck, where the ride and motions at sea are most comfortable. This exceptional full-beam bedroom has big windows in the hull sides making the area very appealing and enjoyable to be in. It has a king bed, with drawers and storage space below, dressers and seats are along either side of the stateroom. The master head is aft to port, finished in a beautiful marble on the decks and bulkheads. His and hers sinks, an open linen locker and a large closet are included. These cabin areas are spacious and elegant, a comfortable way to rest after an active day on the water.

The single interior design innovation most evident on the LSX 75 is the atrium forward below the windshield, which makes the main deck saloon open to the dining and galley area below. Stairs lead down from the main deck saloon to the atrium area, which has a dining area with settee and table, and the generously equipped and proportioned galley opposite. This is a wonderfully pleasant living area, bathed as it is in light and with what is effectively a two-storey ceiling. All areas, including the helm station, have obviously been designed for comfort and ease of control. The helm is equipped with high companion seats that present a commanding view of the horizon and the electronics panel swivels on demand to suit the driver's height and position, whether seated or standing. Standing up, the wheel and engine controls, including the IPS joystick, are at your fingertips, while you can also run the yacht while sitting on the adjustable helm seat.

Gauges and switches are ergonomically laid out and easy to reach and see.

Teak and stainless steel are major features of the exterior that boasts two sun pads, one aft and the other forward. With port and starboard stairs leading up to the aft deck from the swim platform and the superstructure that stops well forward, the boat presents with a lower profile. There is a tender storage and crew cabin directly off the swim platform. Up the stairs is a large lounge with sun pad aft and dining table forward. From this very social area, wide side decks head forward and at the bow atop the trunk cabin is the second sun pad with the deck forward flat and convenient to walk around on.

Not many boats can match the quality and spaciousness of the Lazzara, it is a must-see-to-believe yacht in a class of its own. This will be the first of many Lazzara yachts to be seen cruising the Australian shores, and with more versions available the choices are endless for both size and customisation. With the LSX 92 and LSX 116 already gaining support, it will be interesting to see what this brand will reveal next. The Lazzara 75 will be on display at both Sanctuary Cove and Sydney International Boat shows, an exquisite opportunity to experience the lifestyle that five star yachting can bring.
